

ASSOCIATION of BRIEFING
PROGRAM MANAGERS

ABPM Supplier Membership Benefits

We appreciate your interest in Supplier Membership in the Association of Briefing Program Managers (ABPM), the strategic resource for the development of briefing programs and professionals. ABPM Supplier Members must be recommended by a current Company or Associate (briefing professional) Member of the ABPM who has completed a project with your company in their briefing program and has been pleased enough with the work that they would be willing to recommend you to their fellow briefing professionals. Due to time constraints, ABPM does not vet prospective Supplier Members during the months prior to the Spring or Fall Conferences. The first person to join from a supplier company is the Supplier Member and pays dues of $1500 annually. All employees from that company who join thereafter are Supplier Associate Members paying $595 annually as long as the main Supplier Membership is kept in good standing. Member benefits are the same for both types of memberships. Memberships are assigned individually and cannot be transferred.

We invite you to consider the many benefits of ABPM Supplier Membership. ABPM Supplier Members must be recommended by current briefing professional members of the ABPM. As a result the membership considers Supplier Members to be vetted resources for their programs.

Membership benefits include:

- The status of being a recommended ABPM Supplier Member
- Access and member discounts to the annual ABPM Spring Conference, European Conference, Fall Workshops, and Regional Meetings
- Opportunities for exposure at ABPM events and in ABPM publications
- Briefly, the ABPM digital newsletter
- www.abpm.com featuring:
 - A downloadable database of the ABPM membership (member section only). Note: Supplier Members may use this list to contact members one-on-one via phone or individually customized emails. Blast emails are prohibited due to the one-on-one culture of the membership.
 - Supplier Membership listings offer one page per supplier detailing “Who We Are”, “Services We Offer”, and “Some of Our Clients” as well as contact information and a direct link to the supplier member’s web site. This information is available to members and the public
 - Job Postings
 - Free and discounted documents in the Resource Library including an archive of Briefings and Briefly newsletters since 1998, the Characteristics of a World Class Briefing Program white paper that details industry standards, the results of recent research, and a Processes & Tools section.
 - Access to the ABPM Members-Only LinkedIn Group where members can post questions to fellow members on various briefing topics
 - Conference information and registration
 - News and Events information
 - Member Center Photos
- Access to the ABPM staff, at your service to help you with your questions and requests or help you find the people who can help you

Begin taking advantage of the many benefits of ABPM membership today by completing the membership application on our web site, www.abpm.com. If you have any questions about the ABPM, please call +1 214-389-0990 or email info@abpm.com.
